Gita Group -Gita Discussion

Group Reading of Gita shlokas in Sanskrit from Gita chapter 18 and translating them in English.

The wisdom of Vedic tradition along with quantum physics reveals that we are not limited human being in these bodies, but are multi-dimensional beings who create their own future beyond this life through every thought, word and deed. Life and death are inter linked to each other. During one's life span Consciousness exists and after death it does not. Line between life and death is not a wall, but one permeable curtain, a thin barrier.

Being born means arriving at another chance at life. The process repeats itself over and over, each time progressing to a slightly higher closeness to God in each subsequent reincarnation.

The soul trajectory is always upward. Your karma sees to it that your actions will always be better in next reincarnation. But once your Karma have worked themselves out and human raise themselves to the level of being a saint or sage, you may be able to influence the lives you incarnate and also through your karma, you can exhibit the skills of being an artist or a musician even at a very young age. When you are born, you bring along the talents you have developed from all your previous reincarnations -----.
